WILLIMANTIC

An interesting and attractive programme was carried out Friday night at the Father and Son dinner in the Y. M. C. A. building. The affair began at 6:45 with a fine supper by the Ladies' Auxiliary served to about 130 people. The principal speaker was James B. Thwing, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who was in the insurance business in this city a number of years ago and is well and favorably remembered by many Willimantic people. The following programme was arranged for the evening: Selection by orchestra; grave, George Harrington; introduction by Robert Fenton, chairman of the boys' work committee, as toastmaster; of Edward Morin, secretary of Intermediate Council; talk by A. D. Carpenter, The Father as the Boy Would Know Him; the Boy as the Father Should Know Him; Address by James B. Thwing, state secretary; closing remarks by the general secretary, followed by music by the orchestra of the Y. M. C. A. and singing was led by Mr. Caswell. Before the close of the meeting awards were made by the physical department to those boys who earned them during the past three months. Hardly a man present at the meeting failed to bring either his son or some other young man with him.

Plans and arrangements for the mid-year meeting of the chamber of commerce next Tuesday evening are practically completed. The speaker of the evening will be H. C. Morrison of Hartford, who is assistant state secretary of the board of education, and he will speak on matters pertaining to the Morrison Bill. Invitations have been issued to all school boards in the vicinity of Willimantic, and an interesting meeting is looked for. A buffet lunch will be served.

High grade jobs in the state are available through the U. S. Employment Service which caters to all types of workers, from the day laborer to the professional man, demanding a high salary. Friday the local branch office received a call for a power sales engineer, salary $2400, for two librarians (women) in one of the colleges.

Plans for Willimantic's part in the campaign for relief work in the Near East are completed. Mayor Charles A. Gates is campaign committee chairman and a great many sub-committees have been appointed to carry out the work. A special committee of clergymen of almost every denomination in the city has been named to arrange for special services to be held in the churches Sunday Feb. 17. James P. Twoomey is chairman of the canvassing committee, which numbers seven. People from all churches and walks of life will take part in this campaign for a great and worthy cause.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Ladd celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage most of the day. Entertainment was furnished in the nature of songs, dances and music and refreshments were served. Many friends attended from Hartford, Stafford Springs, Brookfield, Mass., Oakville and Warehouse Point.

The local selective service board has been busy the past week winding up its affairs and getting the lists in shape to send to Washington, D. C. this coming week. The board was originally organized in June, 1917, but during its career a number of changes took place in it, owing to members entering the service. The board as it now stands consists of Bradford W. Danielson, of Moosey, organ; Robert C. White and Frank P. Fenton of this city. The work of the board has been strenuous because of the large amount of incidental detail and clerical work, but it has been done in a thorough, business-like manner, as has been testified to by draft officials of the state.

The many friends of Mrs. Anna L. Woodward, 28, were grieved to learn of her death Friday morning in St. Joseph's hospital in this city, following a surgical operation. For a day or so after the operation her condition seemed encouraging and her recovery was hoped for. She was born in LaJunta, Colorado, and came to this city about ten years ago. Mrs. Woodward was a member of the Methodist church, president of the society connected with it; was noble grand of Violet Rebekah Lodge No. 27, I. O. O. F., and a member of the Pythian Sisters, and always lent her best efforts for the interests and advancement of any organization of which she was a member. She is survived by her husband, Walter R. Woodward, who is a clerk in the local post office, a brother and a sister.

The body of Mrs. Mary Ella Rose was sent to Old Saybrook Friday morning for burial by Undertaker Jay M. Shepard. She died Wednesday at the Westfield Hospital and Training School.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary E. Troh were held Friday afternoon at her home, Rev. C. Harley Smith was the officiating clergyman. Relatives acted as bearers and burial was in the Willimantic cemetery. Killourey Bros. had charge of the arrangements.

Orin Flint Lincoln, 94, died at his home in Eagleville, Friday at 5 a. m. His health had been good and his death came as a surprise to his relatives and friends. He came from a family renowned for its longevity. He was the oldest member of Willimantic Lodge of Masons. He is survived by a son, Everett R. Lincoln and a daughter, Alma Shales.

The work of harvesting the city ice has been suspended owing to the rain but it is hoped the weather will come out cold after this storm so the usual crop may be gotten in.

Rev. H. S. McCready of Willimantic gave an interesting address at the Mansfield Center church Friday evening, his topic being The Boy in the Community. A Father and Son supper was served previous to the meeting to a goodly number of Fathers and Sons.

G. T. Bochman, a former labor leader, will be the speaker at an open forum meeting to be held at the Epworth League hall, Sunday afternoon, his subject will be Prohibition in the Reconstruction. These open forum meetings will be continued each Sunday afternoon.

There will be preaching Sunday morning and evening in the Methodist Episcopal church. Miss Ethel Sitmonds will lead the Epworth League meeting.

At the First Congregational church a service will be held Sunday morning at 10 a. m. The subject is Is a Substitute for the Saloon Needed and What is Our Duty, with Holden Arnold and George H. Shaffer as speakers.

Next Friday evening the pastor of the Methodist church will conduct services at South Coventry after which there will be a meeting of the official board.

Rev. W. S. Beard is to speak at the February meeting of the Ladies' society of the First Congregational church on America's Challenge to You and Me.

UNSHAKEN TESTIMONY

Time is the test of truth. And Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test in Norwich. No Norwich resident who suffers backache, or annoying urinary ills can remain unconvinced by this twice-told testimony.

Mrs. Margaret Brown, 340 W. Main St., says: "My back and kidneys were in a bad way. I suffered a great deal from a dull, heavy ache in my back. It gradually grew worse until it was almost impossible for me to get out of bed mornings. I was in that condition for nearly a year, trying different medicines without help. Finally I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got some at Sevin & Son's Drug Store, and I found they were just what I needed. They made me feel like a different woman, better than I had felt for years. My kidneys are now acting regularly and the pains have left."

(Statement given July 23, 1911.)
 On May 18, 1916, Mrs. Brown said: "Doan's Kidney Pills certainly are excellent and they do what is claimed for them. At times, when a cold settles on my kidneys and causes my back to ache, I use Doan's and they never fail to give me prompt relief."

Members of the Red Cross may take the magazine on payment of $1. The price to others is $2. Subscriptions may be sent to the secretary, Mrs. G. H. Cheney, and will be taken at Slater library, the Red Cross work room and at the postoffice in Voluntary.

There arose a wall of protest in Jewett City and two telephones and people were kept busy all day Friday answering the question "Where are the Buletins?" Three hundred Buletins were extruded from the press. No one knows where they finally landed. Only one boy received his papers, and the other 300 are wandering around looking for their homes like the lost bass drum belonging to the up-line orchestra. Therefore the Jewett City news is reprinted as follows:

The executive committee of the Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church had charge of a Lincoln birthday supper at the society on Wednesday evening. The windows in the vestry and parlor were hung with red and white streamers and several of the lights were covered with them. Each of the eight tables was decorated with red carnations, and the piano, treasurer's table and desk were covered in paper of patriotic design.

The folding doors were resplendent in bunting and red and white draperies, with a photograph of Lincoln in the center. The lady who received the people was dressed in white, and blue costume, and the waitresses were exceedingly attractive in their white gowns and patriotic caps. The supper was given by the ladies of the society, who were assisted by the young people. The most attractive of the evening was Mrs. P. D. Ballou, Mrs. E. E. Foust, Mrs. Norman Parkhurst and Mrs. P. E. Robinson, assisted by Mrs. C. D. Wolf, Mrs. C. Adams, John Whitley, Mrs. H. E. Paul and M. W. Alling. Mrs. E. H. Hiscow was in charge of the dining room; the waitresses were Misses E. Adams, E. Thompson, Madeline Gallun, Helen Hull, Isabel Marshall, Alice Blais, Evelyn Reid, Ruth Miner, Lucile Swenson, Minnie Maciel, Clara Adams, Sadie Thompson and Gladys Jeffers. The young men who served were Henry E. Paul, Jr., Leslie Hyde, Gerard Wolf, John Elieboer, William Marshall, Harold Faust, David Ballou and Fred Whalley. The total receipts was $62. Norman Parkhurst had charge of the tickets at the door.

Mrs. J. B. Aldrich's Sunday school class began at the H. S. class was entertained at the home of Miss Beatrice Read Tuesday evening. The members played games, enjoyed musical selections and refreshments were served. As it was the hostess' birthday, she received a number of gifts.

Alex McNeil, who was recently discharged from the service, was elected treasurer of the Jewett City Textile and Novelty Co. at a meeting of the board of directors Wednesday. The present board and officers are: Frank H. Allen, president; William N. McLane, vice president; Alex McNeil, treasurer; Thomas McArthur, secretary and general manager; Andrew McNeil, assistant manager; and John McNeil, assistant manager.
